

Cultivating the Mentality of a Star

A Chapel Service Message by Dr. David Oyedepo on Tuesday, March 25, 2014

Nothing defines destiny like mentality (Proverbs 23:7). Our lot in life is majorly a function of our mentality. It is our thoughts that make or break us in life.

According to Romans 12:2, when we change the way we think, we would change the way we live (Mark 7:21; Proverbs 4:23). Every action is a function of the kind of thought that is at work in the individual.

The renewal of one's thought life is a vital determiner of a transformed life. Thoughts constitute a potent force in determining the outcome of a man's destiny.

Romans 8: 16-17 unveils God's agenda wherein lies the royalty status of the believer and their true position in Christ. It is the mind of Christ that enables the redeemed to organise his or her life in a manner that would humble the proud world.

Man's imagination, today, is ultimately what defines his destination tomorrow (Genesis 11:6). There is a divine gene in man that would make him a star, if only he will take responsibility (Psalms 82: 5-7; John 10: 34-35; Revelations 22:11).

Only those who see their glorious future and drive at it will achieve a life of glory. Leading a complacent existence is a product of lack of vision of where one is heading to in life. It will take commitment and a serious approach in life to command a glorious result.

A man's future is not a function of the place where he is located, but a function of the qualities he has cultivated over the years.
